November 2012

Volume 1, Issue 5

Dear Andrea,

Grateful Attitudes, Successful Business

RK Rubber is one of the country's most-respected fabricators of industrial rubber parts for good reason. Our reputation comes hard earned, forged by solving problems with innovative, customized solutions that minimize downtime for our customers and keep their factories and processes humming, year after year, decade after decade.

We enjoy working with customers who need a completely new solution whether it's conveyor belts, fasteners, vulcanized gaskets, tubes and sleeves or flexible connectors and rings. Our skilled team of experts has vast experience developing solutions in a quick and cost-effective manner. That's why so many companies have come to rely on us for high quality, durable fabrication backed by a business that's been in the same location since 1898.

RK Rubber's history isn't as long-standing as our country's Thanksgiving tradition but our 114-year values are similarly deep-rooted and timeworn. We're grateful for our customers and the relationships we continue to strengthen that have allowed us to become an industry leader providing fabrication services into the unforeseen future.

This Thanksgiving remember to give thanks with a grateful heart for gratitude unlocks the fullness of life. I'll be spending time with family and friends doing just that.

Dell Gutknecht, general manager
