

Big Responsibilities...

The hat. This is one of my most prized possessions; it was my dad's. Due to my cancer treatments and hair loss, it became my best friend just like dad. My hair came back but it's bozo the clown hair. Three years ago, I lost my Dad at the age of 87. He was a vet and a very proud vet. He served our country during the Korean conflict. As we approach both election day and veterans day in the same week this year, please remember we have big responsibilities.

Make your voices heard and vote and please remember all of our vets and current members of the armed services. We have our freedom because of them.
