The month of March provides many opportunities for one to indulge in some of the best that the Food and Beverage industries have to offer. I know I've done my fair share of consuming over the years...ha.

I also know all the fabricated rubber parts that this company supplies to those industries that keep production lines moving and consumer goods being produced.

What a great month. We start it with a B2B focus and become consumers ourselves along the way enjoying the fruits of our labor through the various food and beverage businesses that are our customers.
