Getting “all caught up” is a good feeling. While having a bunch of back orders can be a good problem, it isn’t if you’re the one waiting for your order. And trust me, that’s the stuff that keeps me up at night... we just don’t operate like that.

Our new larger facility is set for growth. We will be able to handle more of everything WHILE delivering on the turn-around time that industry demands and our reputation is built on. Put us to the test and send us an order... RK RUBBER is at your beck and call.
